TEUCRA VII - 51' DE CESARI Cruising Ketch

Designed by Giuseppe Belardi of Ravenna (1898 - 1972) a Ketch designed for long voyages and for maximum comfort. Built by the well-known Italian shipyard De Cesari and launched in Rimini in 1977, is a one-off project from which the series production of the well-known Rimini 51 and Conrad 57, produced in the late seventies and early from the 1980s in about twenty exemplars from the Adria Yacht yard in Rimini.

Teucra VII is in a fairly good state of conservation on its cradle protected by a weather-doth for several years and needs some refitting work in order to be able to sail again.

The construction is in lamellar mahogany and the deck is completely teak in good condition.

The interior is of excellent quality and very well preserved. The equipment is of high quality even if dated. The instrumentation, original of the time, is complete with every accessory in vogue at the time of its launch.

Teucra VII awaits a new owner who loves her and realizes a refitting project that can put her in a position to give her new owner many satisfactions and happy days.
