The PowerBoat Guide has this to say: The 540 Sundancer (called the 54 Sundancer since 2012) is an executive-class luxury yacht that took Sea Ray styling and performance benchmarks to the next level when she was introduced in 2010. Notably, she was among the first Sundancer models to offer optional Zeus pod-drive propulsion—an engineering game-changer whose impact in the boating industry has been dramatic. Her palatial two-stateroom interior includes a full beam amidships master suite, large salon with sofa and hide-away bed, two full heads, and full service galley with Corian counters and under-counter refrigeration. The helm is on the centerline (almost), and both helm seats swivel 180 degrees to face the cockpit. Additional features (among many) include a sleek fiberglass hardtop with retractable sunroof, extended swim platform, washer/dryer, and a spacious, air conditioned cockpit with circular lounge seating. Note that the 540's distinctive hull-side windows were restyled and enlarged in 2013.
