Overview

Coastal Explorer is a term that Grady-White coined for our first model of this type of boat, which is also referred to as a bay or inshore boat. They are designed primarily for the angler that wants a shallow water fishing boat. The bow is typically built with a casting deck and low gunnels that provide anglers easy access to the water when boating a fish but have a shallower draft to allow them to fish in "skinny" inshore waters.
