Overview

Indigo Falcon is a trawler style boat you will want to see if you're planning on doing the Great Loop, or doing long cruises or living long term on your boat, or all of these things. Powered by twin Lehman 135 hp naturally aspirated (read: simple to maintain) that are known for their reliability and fuel efficiency. Indigo Falcon has been owned and extensively cruised by her current owner for the past 12 years. The owner has just returned from a 3+ week trip down to the Florida Keys where he enjoyed the boat as much as he did on his first trip. He is a licensed 1600 ton Master Captain and the former owner of a small shipping company in the Caribbean Islands, where he learned the importance of maintaining the vessels systems.
