Overview

MISS GRATITUDE Menorquin 120 Old-World Tradition with Sophistication and Technology For those familiar with Menorquin Yachts, this 2004 Menorquin 120 (40'-11") is rare to the brokerage market. To those unfamiliar, this bristol yacht deserves your attention. "Miss Gratitude" was built on the Spanish Island of Menorca. Current owners have equipped and maintained her to use for weekending and a home on an extended cruise. Offering luxurious and roomy accommodations, this yacht has the weight and feel of a larger vessel in a 40 foot design. The Menorquin 120 is powerful with plenty of energy and will also provide you the look and feel of a traditional yacht. She has a semi-displacement hull, full keel and twin diesel engines providing enough power for a top end of 20 knots, yet give you equally great performance at 6 to 8 knots with great fuel economy for those long trips. Her hull and deck construction is solid fiberglass built to meet or exceed CE standards. The foredeck features a padded open area for sunbathing and as a casual gathering spot when at anchor. The flybridge those yearning for a nice great view and plenty of air the flybridge is the place to be. With redundant controls the captain is offered a choice of piloting from either the wheelhouse or flybridge.
