SPECIFICATIONS

Overview

Designed by Philip Rhodes and built by Henry B. Nevins, this classic motor launch has modern diesel engines and updated mechanical systems while still retaining all of her original deck hardware and interior fittings. Her wide open cockpit is partially covered with a hardtop and ideal for entertaining and harbor cruising. Her cabin provides ample comfort for overnights.

Ku Chu (original name) was built for the son of Thomas Lamont, a partner of J P Morgan on wall Street. Her first two owners only used her during the summer months in Maine and stored her in a private shed in the winter. She is now for sale by only her third owner.
