The quality of the construction is evident and exemplary. The current and only owner of this Delphia 33 purchased it from Admiralty Sailboats in Tacoma. Very few of these made it to the West Coast. It is unusual for a sailboat of this size to have two separate staterooms. Another nice feature is the dinette with a double seat opposite that can use the saloon table. The boat was hauled September 2022 and had the bottom cleaned and painted. The hull was also polished. The sail inventory includes a full battened main with stack pack, two roller furling Genoas and an Asymmetric Spinnaker.
