It is the first model built in the Grand Banks fleet and continues to be revered to this day. They are known and respected for their seaworthiness due to the semi-displacement hull, full keel, hard chines and deep bow. The lines of a Grand Banks 36 make her easy to recognize across a bay.With this 1987 model year, Grand Banks added six inches to the length and four inches to the beam to make it slightly more stable and to provide more interior volume.This particular boat is equipped with a bow and stern thruster, fully enclosed flybridge, and a Wallas forced air diesel furnace; all contributing to easy handling, enjoyable passages and extended cruising. Her teak floors have been beautifully refinished, the upholstery is in very good condition, the main and guest accommodations each have ensuite baths; the layout is perfect for a couple cruising with friends or create meaningful memories with your own family, as the current owner did.
