SPECIFICATIONS

Overview

At more than 32 feet in length with a wide 10-foot 2-inch beam, the 320 Outrage is Boston Whaler's biggest outboard model yet.

Its deep-V hull features a 23-degree dead-rise at the transom, delivering the ultimate ride in superior comfort. But that's just the beginning of the range of features anglers will find in this fabulous fish-fighting machine.

With a high 28 inches of interior freeboard, stainless steel toe rails and cockpit coaming pads, angling feels more comfortable and secure than ever. There's an enormous amount of storage space for rods and gear in handy areas throughout the boat.

There are three insulated, in-floor fish-boxes with pump-out. The prep station includes a sink, tackle boxes, tool holders, cutting board and live-well with raw-water fill, as well as a trash receptacle.
