HISTORY OF THE AZIMUT LEONARDO

Azimut updated its 98 Leonardo with the newer 100-foot model in the 2010 model year. After six years in production, the 98 was a trendsetter for the design of a larger lowprofile sport yacht who retained a full flybridge. The 100 Leonardo is simply an upgraded version of the 98. The most notable modification for the 100 is the hard top with sunroof which covers the forward flybridge. Additional changes include the hull windows in the owners' suite and the forward VIP cabin, and the two new larger furniture units on the forward deck. The interior remains the same as the 98, highlighted by its famed circular salon entry door and open floor plan with full-service bar just aft of the separated pilothouse.

INCLUDED IN SALE

- Inflatable water toys (excluding Sea Pool)
- Wood-burning pizza oven, on flybridge
- Industrial freezer, on flybridge
- (4) Dyson air purifiers

EXCLUDED FROM SALE

 - Spark Trixx jetskis (available for purchase)
 - Inflatable sea pool
